Glades jury district is recommended 4-1 by circuit judge panel

A sub-committee of the judges sitting on the 15th Judicial Circuit voted 4-1 to recommend Friday morning that a separate jury district be set up to provide jurors in western Palm Beach County.

Judge James R. Stewart Jr., who Chief Judge Thomas E. Scholtz picked to head the five-judge sub-committee, was the only person voting against the proposal to set up the separate venire on a two-year experimental basis.

Voting for the measure were Judge Don Adams, who presides over the courtroom at the Glades Office Building, and Judges Vaughn J. Rudnick, Robert S. Hewitt and Louis Kepner.

The decision came only after several persons appeared before the sub-committee to give testimony for or against the proposal.

Among those appearing on behalf of the experiment were Assistant State's Attorney Michael Miller, who will soon become a private attorney in Belle Glade, Belle Glade Police Chief Charles Goodlett, Belle Glade City Attorney John Baker and Frank Kreidler, a private attorney in the area.

Also speaking up for the proposal was State Rep. Tom Lewis, who had sponsored a similar bill before the state legislature. On hand for the meeting and indicating support without actually speaking for the proposal were State Rep. Ed Hesley and District Five County Commission candidate Betty Jordan.

West Palm Beach attorney Robert Montgomery spoke against the proposal on behalf of the Palm Beach Bar Association Advisory Committee which voted last week, 7-2, to advise against the separate jury district.

Montgomery said that if Glades residents are trying "to maintain a fiefdom," they might as well secede from the county.

"It would look like succession," Montgomery said later, "because you're trying to set up your own judge, court, clerk and sheriff out there."

Montgomery said the request looks like a regression "in light of the county takeover on Jan. 3, 1977 of all municipal courts and said he feels all jury trials should be heard in the West Palm Beach County Courthouse because West Palm Beach is the county seat for the entire county, including the Glades.

He also commented that attorneys, judges and expert witnesses not available in the Glades would lose three or four hours traveling to the Glades for a single hearing.

"The Bar Association Circuit Court Advisory Committee feels," he said, "that this would mean a great effort and cost on the part of many to benefit a very few. It depends on whose ox is getting gored."

State's Attorney David Bludworth had earlier pointed out that the purpose of the courts, including the presiding judges and the attorneys who appear before them, is to serve the public.

Bludworth also debunked another stand taken by Montgomery that the juries in the Glades might not represent a true cross section of county residents.

"A cross section isn't really that important," Bludworth said. "The important thing is to see that the jurors can hand down an objective verdict." He pointed out that two coroner's juries which have already sat in Judge Adams' court in recent months have handed down what appeared to be fair decisions and he sees no reason that would change.

Judge Adams, who has been one of the moving forces behind the need for a separate jury venire, said Tuesday, "the only way to improve something is to try something different. It's a lot easier to cut it off than to cut it on."

Adams, who was appointed to the office four years ago, has steadily increased the court services in the Glades over the time he's been presiding.

He has consistently said his goal is complete court service in the Glades, including jury trials.

Should the 12 members of the 15th Judicial Circuit decide to approve the recommendation Friday morning, the matter will go before the County Commission for final approval.

Swine Flu shots begin today

Volunteers were still being sought this week to help administer Swine Flu vaccinations from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. today and Friday at the Glades Office Building by the Palm Beach County Health Department.

Jody Damiti, who is coordinating the Swine Flu program in the Glades, said Tuesday she still needed 15 volunteers to handle non-medical chores when the shots are given to the public.

Those volunteers were supposed to have met with Mrs. Damiti Wednesday for an orientation period, but she was accepting some volunteers who wouldn't be able to make the training period.

As of 8 a.m. Tuesday, 26,017 people throughout Palm Beach County had received their immunizations and the Glades area hadn't even been approached.

Mrs. Jean Elder, who heads up the county-wide program, said there have only been a few cases of minor reactions, "primarily fever up to 102-103 degrees for a couple of days. No severe reactions have been reported."

Mrs. Elder said the vaccinations will be administered free of charge to anyone who wants the protection provided. She said everyone over 18 should get the shots.

Mrs. Damiti said there will be a physician on hand throughout both days the shots are administered to make on-the-spot decisions as to whether a person should have the non-valent or bivalent vaccine, which includes a Victoria vaccine.

The shots will be administered by a Ped-O-Jet gun which shoots the vaccine directly into the arm without use of a needle. Mrs. Damiti said the gun is a much better and faster method than the traditional syringe.

According to the Public Health Service, Mrs. Elder said, no restrictions need be placed on pregnant females.

High risk individuals, including everyone over 65, or persons who have a history of heart problems or kidney disease, or diabetes, should receive the bivalent vaccine.

"If the recipient feels well after the first half hour," Mrs. Elder said, "he may carry on normally. No restrictions need be involved. High risk individuals between the ages of three and 17 should bring in a written note from their physician. Mrs. Elder said, describing the nature of their chronic illnesses. They will be expected to take two doses a month apart.

Normal risk children between three and 17 won't be given the shots according to Mrs. Elder, despite reports to the contrary.

"Everyone," Mrs. Elder said, "should be made aware that no deaths have been directly attributable to the vaccine." She said individuals between the ages of 18 and 24 may be called back again for another shot.

Both Mrs. Elder and Mrs. Damiti have said they've received their vaccine. They said private physicians in the area should begin receiving their vaccine Wednesday.

Record number of Glades voters face long ballot Nov. 2

When Glades voters go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots in the general election, there may be 565 who won't there in the first primary two months ago.

According to information received from the Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Office, that's how many more people are registered to vote Nov. 2 than were registered Sept. 5.

Those voters, representing a 6.4 per cent increase over the 8,854 who were eligible earlier, came as the result of a concentrated registration drive mounted by several organizations, including the office of Jackie Winchester, the county's supervisor of elections.

The voters will also be facing a long, complicated ballot representing 38 offices in which there is competition, plus decisions to be made in nine State Constitutional Amendments and a referendum concerning a fire control tax district.

The tax district and ten of the offices won't affect the Glades voter, however, but he will still be asked to make decisions on 28 of the offices, ranging from Port of Palm Beach to President of the United States. Only in the Presidential race will the voter have a choice of more than two candidates. Besides the familiar names of Jimmy Carter and Gerald R. Ford, American Party member Tom Anderson and Independent Eugene J. McCarthy and Lyndon H. La Rouché are listed. Another American Party candidate is being offered on the ballot in the District 11 Congressional race, where the familiar name of Paul Rogers has "drawn no Republican opposition but Clyde Adams fills the slot

Of particular interest to voters in the Glades are the U. S. Senate race in which incumbent Lawton Chiles is being opposed by Belle Glade physician John Grady the District 5 County Commission race which finds Glades native Bill Bailey opposing E. L. "Betty" Jordan, Port of Palm Beach Group 3 wherein Belle Glade chiropractor Tom Baker is opposing Blair J. Cinklin and School Board District 5 in which Belle Glade resident Susan Kay Barton is opposing Thomas W. Sansbury.

Other races which have created an unusual amount of interest include the sheriff's race, pitting Richard E. Lopez against Richard P. White; the other two county commission races in which Peggy B. Ewalt opposes Mervin H. "Merv" McIntyre and Dennis Paul Kohler opposes Bob Johnson; the state attorney's race which pits John Witt against David H. Bludworth and the property appraiser's office which pits Earl R. Boyce against David L. Reid.

Yearly Chamber awards banquet set for tonight

Final plans have been drawn up for the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Annual Awards Banquet at 8 p.m. tonight, which will feature Florida Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner as the guest speaker.

The banquet is the Chamber's only formal gathering of the full membership during the year and is highlighted by the naming of the Man of the Year, the Police Officer of the Year and the Agri-Business Man of the Year. Besides Conner, guests will include Congressman Paul Rogers, outgoing Palm Beach County Commissioner E. W. "Bud" Weaver who will install the officers for the coming year; last year's Man of the Year, Mrs. Ruth Wedgworth, who will deliver the welcome; Judge Don Adams, who will introduce the speaker; and Robert C. Lev, the toastmaster.

The banquet will be held in Belle Glade Elks Lodge 1716 and will be catered by Fr. Eddy's, who will furnish chicken cordon-bleu, green beans almondo, potatoes au gratin and coconut creme pie.

Incoming officers who will be installed are the president, Dr. Cecil Conley, First Vice President, Wayne W. Mikell, Second Vice President, Edward D. Duda, Treasurer, Mary Orsengo and Jewel A. Crane, executive secretary.

Misuse of college grants expected to stop

At least one misuse of tax-paid college grants may be brought to a halt in the near future at Palm Beach Junior College-Glades, according to Dr. Cecil Conley, vice-president of the Glades branch. BEOG students, Conley learned in a letter from U. S. Senator Richard Stone's office, will next year be considered liable to pay back grant money when they've dropped one or more of their courses. The head of the local PBJC campus said the BEOG (Basic Educational Opportunity Grant) program is worthwhile because it gives many students who wouldn't ordinarily have a one chance for an education. Conley said approximately a third of the 150 BEOG students at the college campus this year have dropped one or more classes. Stone was in Belle Glade two weeks ago on one of his regularly scheduled swings through the state and heard a complaint from a local resident that many of the BEOG students were to have lasted only long enough to collect their second check and then dropped out, keeping the grant money.

The Senator said he didn't believe that form of practice should be allowed to continue and said he would have his staff investigate. His aide, Glorinda Van Treese, later followed up the matter with a telephone call to Conley.

Immediately after drop-add period," When Ms. Lovett wrote that letter in January, the general practice was to give the entire check, $456 per semester if the student had signed up for a full load, at the beginning of the term.

Altman excited over amendment

Belle Glade City Commissioner Tom Altman said

this week he is excited about the prospects offered by one of the constitutional amendments on the ballot in Tuesday's general election. Altman said Amendment

Number Four offers a tool to the city commission to help redevelop the downtown area without representing a raise in taxes elsewhere.

Altman said the amendment, incorporating features from two plans used in California and Missouri, has no concerted opposition but he is concerned that not enough people realize the potential of the two plans. Under the statement plan, a local authority could be set up which could authorize a private businessman to improve his property without being required to pay the extra taxes the improvements would normally bring.

Assuming the area around the redevelopment would lower the value of the property, the private owner might not be inclined to go to the expense of the added improvements if he were immediately liable to pay increased taxes.

ST. PETERSBURG — Increase guaranty on mobile home loans and extended eligibility to 250,000 peacetime veterans were among features of the Veterans Housing Amendment Act of 1976, says W. B. Mackall, Director of the Florida's Division of Veterans Affairs under the Department of Community Affairs.

The new law increased the mobile home and mobile home lots guaranty from 30 percent to 50 percent effective July 1, 1976, of an unpaid balance of up to a maximum of $12,500, on single wide units. For a double wide unit, the maximum guaranty is $20,000.

Unmarried surviving spouses of veterans who served during this period, also will be eligible if the veteran died while on active duty, or as a result of a service-connected disability. Also effective October 1, 1976, is an increase in the amount of direct loans that can be made by the VA to eligible veterans or servicemen, from $21,000 to $33,000. (AFNS)

Connell/Lovett vows exchanged

Miss Donna Ray Connell became the bride of James Edward Lovett in a candle-light ceremony held at the altar of the First Baptist Church on Sept. 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurence W. Connell of 749 S. E. 1st St., Belle Glade. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lovett of 10631 Tod Drive, Palos Hills, Ill.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an exquisite English net, re-embroidered Alencon and Venice lace gown, designed by Christos for Galina Couture. The fitted empire bodice is entirely adorned with silk embroidered tulip pattern motifs enhanced with Venice lace appliques and hand stitched pearls, with sheer yoke, high neck, lovely caplet sleeves. The dress had a full skirt and chapel train attached, are re-embroidered with silk and lace tulip pattern motifs and streams of delicate pearls to complete the regal look, a matching silk and lace camelot headpiece, with long illusion veil and dainty lace appliques all over.

Her bridal bouquet, cascade style of white cattails, orchids, white miniature orchids, white tommie orchids, stephanitis and green foliage.

Mrs. William J. Miller III was matron of honor. Miss Mary Ethel Brown was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Dennis Connell of West Palm Beach, sister-in-law of the bride; Mrs. Thelma Myers of New Augusta, Miss Linda Lovett, of Palos Hills, Ill., sister of the groom; Pamme Jo Novak of Orlando Park, Ill. Godchild of the groom was J. Bridesmaid.

They all wore mint green satin floor length gowns, high empire, with stand-up collars, and elbow length puff sleeves. The attendants each wore a gold pearl necklace which was a gift from the bride. They carried cascade style bouquets of yellow liguins and green foliage.

The flower girl was Belinda Deas of Macon, Ga., cousin of the bride. She wore a mint green floor length tulle gown with white lace trim, and a ruffle at the bottom. She also wore a bracelet which was a gift from the bride. She carried a pearl size white basket with green ribbon streamers and in the basket was rose petals and yellow fugi pom poms.

Attending the groom as best man was Butch Raschke of Palm Springs, cousin of the groom. The groomsmen were Dennis Connell of West Palm Beach, brother of the bride, Jim Brodbeck of Lake Worth, Danny Hager of West Palm Beach, Enrique Tomeu of West Palm Beach, Junior Groomsman was Bill Cochran, cousin of the bride, Ringbearer was Jimmy Cochran, also cousin of the bride. All the groomsmen and ringbearer wore dark green tuxedos with mint green shirts.

A musical program was presented by Dennis Simmons of Lake Worth on the organ and Jimmy Crockett of Lake Worth was the soloist and on the piano.

Jiminy Crockett sang, "Here, there, everywhere," and the couples song "Color My World."

The Rev. Robert H. Atkins performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Connell chose a floor length coral peach chiffon gown with a chiffon cape and matching accessories. She wore a white cattails orchid corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Lovett selected a hot pink chiffon floor length gown with matching accessories, and a white cattails orchid corsage.

Mrs. Guy Oder, the bride's grandmother, wore a light blue floor length gown with scattered rhinestones. She wore a white Cymbidium Orchid corsage.

Mrs. Bill Foy of Macon, Ga., cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book at the church and reception. She wore corsage of yellow roses and yellow daisies.

The reception was held at the Belle Glade Elks Lodge. Guests at the reception entered through a white iron arch garland with smilax and adorned with white satin ribbon bows. The band stand was banked in palms with two large free standing candelabra arrangements of white glads, and white mums on either side.

The dance floor was surrounded with palms. The guests were seated at tables laid with white cloths and centerpiece arrangements of white glads, yellow fugi mums and straw pom poms.

The bride and groom's table was centered with a large double deck arrangement of white and yellow flowers and garlands of smilax down the table.

The bride's cake sat on a round table in the center of the floor covered with white embroidered cloth and garland with smilax and white satin bows. The five tiered cake was topped with nosegay of white tommie orchids, white miniature orchids, stephanitis and rope of pearls and hearts. The food tables were adorned with floor length cloths of white embroidery and centered with two large gold candelabra garland with smilax and yellow and white pom poms. On the side wall of the room stood the large table holding a silver punch bowl, champagne fountain topped with an arrangement of white and yellow flowers and the groom's chocolate cake in the center.

On either side of the groom's were gold candleabras and eperin arrangements of yellow roses, and carnations, snapdragons, spider mums and foliage. The entire table was garland with string smilax and yellow daisies.

Two aunts of the bride, Mrs. Cecil Moore of Altamonte Springs and Mrs. Frank Cochran of Belle Glade cut the bride and groom's cake. Mrs. Jim McMillon and Mrs. Eddie Buckner served at the punch bowls. All the hostess wore corsages of yellow roses and yellow daisies.

The band "Day and Night" played at the reception.

Lisa Cochran, cousin of the bride and Pamme Jo Novak cousin of the groom distributed rice bags to the wedding guests.

The bride chose a dark green jump suit for her traveling outfit. She wore a white orchid corsage with green leaves.

The couple left the reception in a 1959 Chevrolet Corvette which was a gift from the groom to the bride.

Following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Nevada, and then on to Chicago, Illinois, for another wedding reception, the couple will reside at 3103 Swain Blvd. Lake Worth, Fla.

Out of State guests were present from Justice, Ill., Orlando Park, Ill., Palos Hills, Ill., Macon, Ga. and New Augusta, Miss.

Out of town guests were present from: Monticello, Fla., Lakeland, Altamonte Springs, Homestead, Delray Beach, Bartow, West Palm Beach, Royal Springs, Lake Worth, Loxahatchee, Pahokee, Canal Point and Clewiston.

Gail Murray weds Ray Hawk

Miss Gail Lee Murray, daughter of Mrs. Wilma L. Rowland and the late S. H. Murray became the bride of Steven Ray Hawk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hawk, Jr., at St. Johns Episcopal Church, Belle Glade, Fla., on Sept. 24.

The Rev. Carl E. Storey performed the double ring ceremony and Mrs. Gordon Corbin, organist played a program of nuptial music.

The bride wore a candle-light spun chiffon gown. High neck, tiered trumpet sleeves, with a tiered front, trimmed with Juliet cap of Alencon lace and seed pearls with a Holdas floor length mantle. She carried a cascade of yellow and white roses with stephanitis and a removable cattails orchid corsage. White satin ribbons and string pearls accented the brides bouquet, which laid upon the grooms mothers wedding bible.

Cindy Hawk, sister of the groom, served as maid of honor. She wore a floor length spike gown with matching jacket, trimmed with ivory lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of fall flowers consisting of orange roses, chrysanthemums, daisies, wheat and oak leaves.

The bridesmaids were Beverly Upthegrove, cousin of the groom, of Clewiston, Fla., and Rhonda Evans of Belle Glade. Their dresses matched the maid of honor and they carried cascade bouquets of chrysanthemums in bronze tones, daisies, buttons mums, wheat and oak leaves.

The best man was Eddie Seroggin, of Aniston, Ala. The groomsmen were Ed Upthegrove of Clewiston, Fla. and Gene Lancaster of Pahokee.

The bride wore an aqua floor length gown trimmed with lace, with matching accessories.

The groom's mother wore a floor length turquoise crepe gown with matching accessories.

Both mothers wore white cattails orchid corsages, and the bride presented each mother with a yellow rose during the ceremony.

Gwin Levins directed the proceedings, and Lori Collins presided over the guest book.

A reception was held following the ceremony in Ringland Hall at the church. The bride's table was laid with lace overlay decorated with greenery with yellow bows. Four branch candelabras stood on each side of the four-tiered wedding cake decorated with cherubs playing musical instruments.

A miniature bride and groom topped the cake. All tables for the reception were done with fall flowers. A separate table held punch, mints and nuts. Assisting at the brides table were Mrs. Nancy Reeves, Mrs. Lynne Waters, Carlissa Collins and Lori Collins.

The bride chose a pants outfit consisting of fall colors with matching accessories for her going away outfit.

Following a trip to St. Petersburg, the couple are residing in Belle Glade.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Conant and family of Talmadge, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Elam, Rangimore, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rowland, Mt. Sterling, Ohio; Mrs. Bessie Walker, Alma, Georgia; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Williams, Jupiter, Fla.; Mrs. Leonard Brown, West Palm Beach, Fla.; Kathy Peacock, West Palm Beach, Fla.

CRACKER

BY DEAN JONES

One of these days, I'm gonna figure out how the heads of some of the competing editors in this business are screwed on. Are they that right or am I that wrong? Take the issue of a nationally-known South Florida newspaper the other day. I don't know what you'd do with it but take it anyway. There they were squandering front page space to such inconsequential stories as a notorious female banker being found dead in a hotel, a U. S. Court of Appeals ruling that the Nixon tapes can be exposed to the unaccustomed light of day, a probe of the U. S. President, a small girl's body being found and the possibility of Czar Nicholas' youngest daughter being alive and well in Virginia when the whole world thought she'd met her end in a Communist massacre of the entire Romano family in 1917.

And squandered away there on page 19 was the most earth-shattering story I've seen in a while. Make that more than a while. Make it a coon's age. Ignoring trivialities like the Presidential election, a California school teacher named John Gardner has been quietly setting two before them over Gardner's knees. Now, that's heavy stuff, especially considering the proportions of some of the 3,000 girls who've probably plumped their posteriors over Gardner's knees. Gardner said the crease in his pants has been flattened by the families of ladies from six continents, 36 nations and all 50 states and if his wife isn't the happiest girl in the world, her name is at least at the top of the guest register everyone signs before they climb down.

Would you believe a couple of those ladies have even acted in unseemly manner once they were ensconced on Gardner's lap. And I don't care what he says about keeping the whole show dated, there's bound to be some hanky panky going on at times. Knowing my luck, the first thing that would happen to me if I attempted to set a record like that would be to get my face slapped. The second would probably be a chance to prove my innocence of child molestation charges (even if the child were 39 years old) and the third would probably be the ultimate pleasure of picking bucksot out of my rump. That's supposed to be the revenge most commonly sought by husbands around here when they find their wives on someone else's lap.

One thing about it, though. Gardner couldn't have been trying too hard. According to the story, he's been working on the record for two years and according to my arithmetic, that's only a little better than an average of our rumps per diem.

Even considering that one day when he tried to set the record for holding the same lady on his lap for the longest period of time (24 hours, which doesn't indicate much stamina) that just doesn't make it look like he's trying.

Seems to me that with the proper kind of public relations and advertising, Gardner oughta be able to double his record in just a couple of weekends at a shopping center, not to mention an enjoyable side trip or two to a few of the all-girl schools in the area.

And even allowing for the occasional breakdown because of ponderous posterior, seems to me an average of ten or so a day could be accomplished without too much trouble.

Course like I said earlier, there's always the chance angry hubby and it's a known fact that bucksot in the seat of the pants makes it hard to sit for extended periods of time.

And if you can't sit, it's a bit hard to have someone else sit on your lap.

Secession? May not be bad idea

When Robert Montgomery suggested that if people in the Glades are trying to "preserve a lifeline" by setting up a separate jury district he said we might as well secede from Palm Beach County.

Don't give us any ideas, Mr. Montgomery, that may be the next logical step if we don't get the district, and you're not the first person to think of it.

Montgomery later said he was only acting at the request of the Palm Beach County Bar Association Advisory Committee, the one organization who has openly opposed the separate jury district concept.

Admitting he is now opposed to such a concept, he gave us his reasons that the concept "looks like regression" and that the Bar Association feels the separate jury district, will require a "great effort and cost to benefit a very few."

Of course the attorneys who make up the Bar Association are among the primary people who would have to start making the trip to the Glades, killing, ad Montgomery put it, three or four hours just to appear before a judge for 15 to 20 minutes.

And he's right. Making that trip across SR80 kills half a day. No way about it. Ask the deputies and city police officers who now make the trip east. Ask the witnesses from Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee. Ask the Glades area jurors who have to travel Killer 80 for a week or more to fulfill their jury obligations.

We can only wonder if the trip west is longer than the trip east, or if it that the lawyers who make up the Bar Association think it's better for the people who live west of 20 Mile Bend to make the trip than the lawyers who live east of the Bend.

Who is the Bar Association members supposed to be serving? Themselves or their clients? One answer, of course, is that people in the Glades can use to a fuller extent the attorneys who make their homes in the Glades. We wouldn't want to discommode anyone.

Especially considering how much further it is from West Palm Beach to Belle Glade than it is from Belle Glade to West Palm Beach.

We, the people to live west of 20 Mile Bend, need that separate jury district. The West Palm Beach lawyers may not, but we do. It'll be interesting to see what happens now at the County Commission.

Letter to the editor

Florida has done much to improve the quality of justice within the past few years. Our court system has been streamlined and our judges now devote full time to their duties. Laymen and lawyers now serve together on judicial nominating commissions to fill judicial vacancies. The Chief Justice of The Supreme Court of Florida now has the authority to assign judges from one area of the state to another to achieve maximum efficiency of judicial manpower. These actions have helped make Florida a national leader for judicial reform. But, these reforms are not enough. Our judges are still compelled to be politicians. They must campaign for office and finance their campaigns. They are sometimes compelled to seek contributions from people who are frequently affected by their decisions. They are restricted in the discussions of issues and as a result, their campaigns rarely attract the attention of voters.

The voters, on the other hand, many times exhibit complete apathy for judicial elections. They do not know the candidates and often vote for the first name on the ballot. After the election few voters remember the names of those elected to serve.

There is a better way - merit retention. Retention of judges under this system is totally non-partisan and non-political. It applies only to appellate judges. Every six years the voters will have the opportunity to decide whether to retain the judges of our state's highest courts on the basis of their record in office. Every appellate judge will be considered.

Voters simply vote "Yes" or "No" on the question of whether the judge should remain in office. There are no opposing candidates. There are no campaigns. There are no slogans, speeches, or campaign treasuries. There is only the judge and his record in office.

Amendment 2 on the Nov. 2 ballot proposes the merit retention of Florida's appellate judges. As president of The Young Lawyers Section of The Florida Bar, I am proud to recommend this most important judicial reform to the voters of Florida.

I urge all voters to join with the majority of The Florida Bar and support the passage of Amendment 2 on Nov. 2 for the merit retention of appellate judges.

Sincerely,
BENJAMIN H. HILL 111

Voting may even be fun

It's probably a tossup on who'll be the happier next Wednesday, the candidates who won, because they won't have to make campaign speeches for another two, four or six years, or the public because they won't have to listen to those campaign speeches for two, four or six years.

On the other hand, there'll probably be another tossup on who's the saddest, the politicians who lost, because they've wasted a lot of time and effort, or the columnists, who won't have nearly so much to write about.

For better or for worse, America has one of the most drawn-out election campaigns, especially the presidential race, of any of the democracies around the world.

And for better or for worse, that first Tuesday following the first Monday in November is the goal of everyone concerned.

The only reason men spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to put a man into an office that pays less than $50,000 a year is to get people out to vote, preferably for them.

That's the only reason literally thousands of people spend millions of dollars and hundreds of thousands of man-hours.

And if the voters don't go to the polls, the whole thing is wasted.

There is even a theory in biological science that if an animal doesn't practice any one of the normal bodily functions, the organ of the animal which would normally perform those functions withers and atrophies.

The same might possibly be true in the body politic. If that part of the body which is expected to choose representatives in county, state and federal government and decide on constitutional amendments doesn't operate, it could become an obsolete as the appendix.

Voting isn't merely a privilege, it's a responsibility. Besides, voting can even be fun.

Poster party

And then there's the other part of the election, campaign posters along the rights of way of county roads, on buildings, utility poles and trees.

We notice where at least one candidate has the right idea. David C. Anderson, who happens to be running for tax collector, is trying to organize a "post-election clean up party" to get rid of all those signs.

That fits in with some of the candidates in the Belle Glade city election last month who were going around town a week or so after the election removing signs they had used to try to get elected.

There was even a case a couple of years ago when several candidates in the same race decided before the election they would work together, each being responsible for a given section of town. It worked and the city was a whole gained. It can work again.

Jerry Clark is leading 'B' Bethel College running

Former Glades Central running back Jerry Clark is proving to be a workhorse runner for the Bethel College Threshers in North Newton, Kan. and is leading the Kansas Conference in rushing. As of last week, Clark had carried the ball a total of 117 times for 864 yards for an average carry of 4.8 yards and an average 113 yards per game. Two weekends ago, Clark picked up 108 yards in the Raiders defense missed a touchdown by a foot as time ran out in the first half. Those were only two of a number of mistakes made but had those breaks been capitalized on, the Raiders could have wound up the first half 18-6 instead of starting the last half of the game against the Bobcats in a 6-6 tie and going on to lose, 26-12. The Raiders had already scored once on a pass play from Edgar Arnett to Ollie Sheppard to go ahead 6-0 and the Bobcats had stormed back early in the second quarter to even the game, 6-6, with conversion kicks failing for both teams. With a minute left in the first half, Kenneth Funderburk booted a 42-yard field goal. The kick had the range but went outside the left upright by inches and the game was still tied.

Less than a minute later the clock ran out as the Raiders quarterback attempted a pass, only to have it blocked by a Raider defender. Funderburk was close enough to pick off the ball but didn't realize the play was still alive. Players and coaches on the Glades Central sideline were yelling to "run the ball in, run it in!" when a Boca player pulled Funderburk down on the one foot line and the half ended, still in a tie ball game.

got their second wind in the form of a five yard penalty which kept a drive a live send Boca out front, 19-12. "We had the breaks," Coach Willie McDonald said later, "But we couldn't capitalize on them. We had mental laddowns. We controlled the ball the first half the defense broke down."

The Raider rushing attack was led by Robinson with 69 yards in 11 carries, including the Raiders' second touchdown. He was followed by Eli Martin with 10 carries for 30 yards and Sylvester Knowles with three carries for seven yards. Ollie Sheppard led in the pass receiving department, scoring a touchdown on one of three receptions completed for 38 yards. Anthony Seymore connected twice for three attempts and picked up 22 yards. Defensively, Barney Mason led the statistics, making 11 tackles and three assists while the Raiders managed to recover their only fumble.

made 11 tackles and seven assists and Phillip Stinson made 11 tackles and four assists. Rufus Washington made nine tackles and two assists, Claude Brown made eight tackles and three assists, Eugene Johnson made eight tackles and an assist and Jose Rodriguez made eight tackles.

Boca Raton outstripped the Raiders in both ground and air offense, rushing 224 yards to the Raiders' 116 yards and going to the air 79 yards to the Raiders' 30. The Raiders connected on five of eight passes attempted and Boca connected on three for five. There were no interceptions.

The Raiders led in the kicking department, punting three times for an average of 39 yards while Boca punted once for 33 yards. Glades Central was penalized 82 yards. Boca also led in the fumbles department, losing two of three fumbles while the Raiders managed to recover their only fumble.

Fishing excellent

Fishing in the Belle Glade area continued very good over the weekend in spite of the winds, according to Nan Corbin of Slim's Fish Camp. Fishermen from Slim's Fish Camp reported good catches of bass, specks and bluegill using both live and artificial baits.

On Wednesday William and Phile Stone of Jupiter reported 38 shell crackers using worms in the canal. Tommy and Dorothy Gilbert of Belle Glade brought in 61 specks on minnows on Friday night. Ricky Teal of South Bay reported his limit of Specks on Friday. Cecil Meeks and Bruce Williams, Belle Glade, brought in 20 bass using snagless sally lures on Friday. Edwin Wood, E. J. Wood and Ricky Keel, South Bay, reported 30 bass using hot spots on Saturday. Local fishermen Derrell Mathis and Findley Pate limited out on bass on Saturday afternoon. Buster Lowe, Belle Glade, and party brought in 18 bass to 4 pounds and 15 bluegills using beetle spins on Saturday. Bob Crum and son Mike of Lauderdale Lakes reported 12 bass with the largest going 4 1/2 pounds on Saturday using black worms. E. C. Carroll, Belle Glade, brought in 10 bass using purple worms on Friday.

take on unbeaten John Carroll, while actually putting together a more potent offense.

The Gators managed to drive 135 yards on the ground and 68 yards in the air to beat out the Carroll offensive effort by 200-198 yards but the Carroll kicking game and mistakes kept the Glades Day School players from crossing the goal line and set up at least one touchdown for the Fort Pierce players.

The first score in the game came when Carroll punted 65 yards to the Gator one yard line. On the next play, Carroll's Murphy recovered a Gator fumble and fell into the end zone. Carroll next scored on a long strike when a 55 yard pass connected with Mike Albritton to put John Carroll ahead, 14-0. Clay Powell made the final Carroll score in the second period on a six yard run. All the point-after kicks were good.

The Gator offense was again led by Mitch Crisman, who rushed 64 yards in 15 carries and received two passes to tack on another 46 yards in the air. The Gator ground-gainers following Crisman were Ken Buckner, who carried the ball eight times to pick up 46 yards, and Elmer Miller, carrying eight times for 24 yards.

Dick Crockett was the other pass receiver to post yardage for the Glades Day team, picking up 12 yards in two receptions. Tommy Duda, who did the passing for the Gators in the absence of Jorge Echevarria, connected on six of eight attempted passes and had one pass intercepted, gaining 68 yards. On defense, Kenny Strickland led the way with five tackles and one assist, sacking the John Carroll quarterback once. Other defensive leaders were Elmer Miller, who made four tackles and three assists, Winston Byrd, who made three tackles and five assists, and Curt Thompson, who made three tackles and four assists and managed to block one punt.

John Carroll managed to pick up 11 first downs compared to the Gators' nine but lost only one fumble, compared to the Gators' two.

The Gators punted the ball away three times for an average of 30 yards and John Carroll punted seven times, averaging 35 yards. John Carroll was penalized 101 yards and Glades Day received 60 yards in penalties.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLICATION OF NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that on Nov. 5 the City of Belle Glade, Florida, will submit to the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development a request and certification for the release of funds. The request and certification relate to the application of the City of Belle Glade, Florida, for a grant of funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 for the purpose of undertaking the projects hereinafter described.

Project: PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS
Including street widening, resurfacing, curb and gutter and improved street drainage on S. W. 7th and 8th and S. W. Avenue F.

Project: PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS
(Recreation), including: remodeling the Lakeshore Civic Center, construction of a new recreation building adjacent to the present structure, providing recreational facilities on the adjacent 10 acre parcel and other recreation improvements at existing parks or land bank properties in Target Area 1, 2 or 3.

Project: LAND BANK PROGRAM:
Including: purchase of the 10 acre tract adjacent to the Lakeshore Civic Center, and purchase or lease of opportunity purchase parcels in Target Areas 1, 2 or 3.

Project: RELOCATION PROGRAM
Including provision of housing replacement for displaced owners of substandard dwellings not suitable for rehabilitation who request assistance for Code compliance, and expenditures to cover temporary relocation resulting from rehabilitation.

Project: HOUSING MAINTENANCE EDUCATION PROGRAM, serving the residents of Target Areas 1, 2 and 3. Classes will be held to instruct low income Target Area households, particularly those receiving housing assistance, in the basics of home care and maintenance.

The City of Belle Glade, Florida has prepared Environmental Review Records repeating the above described projects for which release of funds is being sought; Environmental Review Records are available at the Office of the City Clerk, City Hall Annex, 110 S. W. Avenue E., Belle Glade, Florida, between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, where same may be examined by the public and copies thereof obtained.

The City of Belle Glade will undertake the project described above with Block Grant funds from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974. The City of Belle Glade, Florida, is certifying to HUD that the City of Belle Glade, Florida, and the Honorable Ralph Jones in his official capacity as Mayor, consent to accept the jurisdiction of the Federal Courts if an action brought by the United States or any person claiming responsibilities in relation to environmental reviews, decision-making and action; that these responsibilities have been satisfied. The legal effect of the certification is that upon its approval, the City of Belle Glade, Florida, may use the Block Grant funds, and HUD will have satisfied its responsibilities under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969. HUD will accept an objection to its approval of the release of funds and bases (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the chief executive officer of the applicant; or (b) that the applicant's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision, finding, or step applicable to the project in the environmental review process.

Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR Part 58) and may be addressed to HUD Area Office at 661 Riverside Avenue, Jacksonville, FL 32204. Objections to the release of fund on bases other than those stated by HUD, No objection received after Nov. 22, 1976 will be considered by HUD.

Crow season opens Jan. 9

TALLAHASSEE - Some Florida hunters might not be aware of it, but Saturday, November 6, marks the opening of crow season in the state.

The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission reminds prospective crow hunters that the season will run through January 9 with every day hunting from one-half hour before sunrise until sunset.

Starting Jan. 15 and continuing through February 20, hunters may only pursue this interesting sport on Saturdays and Sundays. The season takes a break and will resume May 29 and hunting will again be allowed Saturdays and Sundays only through October 30.

Crows are protected as a migratory game bird under the terms of an agreement with Canada and Mexico. There is no daily bag limit on these birds.

Many modern psychologists think Shakespeare had a point when he wrote "Nothing is either good or bad but thinking makes it so," because sometimes believing something will happen—a quarrel or a reconciliation, for example—might cause it to occur.

The regulation prohibits the use or possession of any semi-automatic rifle having a magazine capacity of more than five rounds of ammunition or while taking deer. The regulation was adopted by the Commission, a spokesman said, "after the regulation summary booklets were printed, and a lot of hunters may not be aware of it."

GFC regulating semi-auto. rifles

TALLAHASSEE - Sportsmen headed for the woods when hunting season opens on November 13 should be acquainted with the regulation affecting the use of semi-automatic rifles while deer hunting, advises the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

The regulation prohibits the use or possession of any semi-automatic rifle having a magazine capacity of more than five rounds of ammunition or while taking deer. The regulation was adopted by the Commission, a spokesman said, "after the regulation summary booklets were printed, and a lot of hunters may not be aware of it."

KAREN'S KORNER

Chasing dogs and shoveling clay probably isn't an everybody's dream but those were among the activities on the agenda last weekend during the Glades Women's Softball League tournament held in Clewiston.

Yep, we finally did it after much talking and a little postponement, and it turned out pretty well, even if our team did lose two out of three games.

We got started Friday evening amid cloudy skies (which cleared) and a drizzle of the last-minute confusion. Glades Sugar and local 2152 of South Bay drew the first game in which Glades Sugar consisting of players from that team and of Timesaver (some local players) won by a quick 5-0.

Any hopes the Barefoot Bakers had of dominating tournament play or at least having a strong showing were dampened when we lost to the Blue Angels of Clewiston by a score of 16-4.

That wrapped up Friday evening's games and due to a team dropping out at the last moment, we had a couple of breaks in Saturday's action.

Crows are protected as a migratory game bird under the terms of an agreement with Canada and Mexico. There is no daily bag limit on these birds.

those numbers I don't know if we'd been able to last anyhow, what with injuries and stuff. At least five or six of us weren't supposed to be playing.

As if for being spiteful because of the nice weather, Sunday brought rain and lots of it. One game had to be halted three times before it finally ended. Gotta give it to those women though, they stuck it out and even tried to defy the weather by continuing to play until the rain won by beating down on them like a wall.

At last the sun peeped in, m being the clouds onto a sea of orange mud puddles. T was then the "repair crew" got busy shoveling and raking until the field became decent once again. Meanwhile, Glades Sugar, the only Belle Glade team left in the tournament was eliminated by the Panthers, leaving three teams to vie for the championship. The Panthers were then humbled by the Blue Angels, setting the stage for the showdown with undefeated Brighton. Brighton had defeated the Blue Angels earlier as well as walloping the Big Cypress Seminoles 27-0, the only shutout of the tournament.

They once again proved their strength with hard hitting and expert fielding to lead 24 before the Blue Angels conceded.

To wrap it up, the Panthers, a success and I hope the first of more to come. The Panthers in Clewiston are going to sponsor a tournament in a few weeks and maybe we can average a poor showing by walking off with the honors. Just maybe.

Speckled perch are biting

The big news on Belle Glade's fishing front this past weekend was the increased action in speckled perch fishing, with most of them being taken in the rim canal and in the Pelican Bay area.

Live minnows seemed to be the best bait for Specks so far with a few coming in on 1/8" according to Nan Corbin of Slim's Fish Camp. "Frank Blocker and Lee Arden reported in at Slim's with their limits on Friday and Saturday. These fishermen are from the Fort Lauderdale area.

Frank W. Reid and Van Short of Fort Lauderdale reported a total of 84 specks on Friday and Saturday using live minnows.

Sherman and Edna Gallagher and Mr. and Mrs. Wooler of Fort Lauderdale took 40 specks using minnows on Saturday in the Pelican Bay area.

B. B. Brown, Pompano, brought in 34 specks on Saturday evening caught on minnows between 7 and 9 p.m.

Nelson and Marie Neff, Fort Lauderdale, took 44 specks on Saturday morning using minnows.

Jim and Joyce Hammock of Hialeah spent the week end in the Belle Glade Marina Campground and reported 24 Bluegills using Thursday fishing from the bank in camping area.

Bass fishing also continues good in our area with plastic worms and live shiners bringing in most of them.

Donald Herring, Belle Glade reported nine bass on Thursday using plastic worms.

John Davis and Sonny Campbell, Belle Glade reported 20 bass on Friday and 20 more on Saturday using Honey Hawg worms in the Grassy Island area.

Largest of their catch went 6 1/2 pounds. Belle Glade fishermen Donald Herring and Bobby Bishop brought in 11 bass on Friday using plastic worms.

Edward Kennedy, Philadelphia, Pa., caught four bass to four pounds each on Thursday fishing from the bank in camping area.

Frank Lavonia and son of bass with his largest going Lake Clark Shores really hit it lucky over the week end. Frank brought in an 8 1/2 pounder on Friday afternoon. On Saturday they took seven bass to eight pounds and on Sunday they had five bass to nine pounds, four on Davis Underwood, Belle Glade, came in with his limit of bass on Friday taken on Devil's Horse lures.

Donald Ramey, Jr. of Fort Lauderdale took the week end's largest bass reported with live shiner on Saturday. Mr. Ramey had 1 1/2 pounds.

Former resident

Funeral services were held Oct. 5 in Sneads for John P. Hunter, a former Belle Glade resident, at Sneads Methodist Church with the Rev. Wesley Wachob and the Rev. Mike McKnight officiating.

Hunter, 34, was an employee at Glades Correctional Institution for 11 years until moving back to his hometown of Sneads, where he served as classification specialist with the Division of Corrections RICI in Chattahoochee. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Sneads. Survivors include his widow, Melinda R. Hunter of Sneads; one daughter, Lisa Hunter of Sneads; two sons, Chris and Craig Hunter of Sneads; his mother, Mrs. Mary Hunter of Sneads; three brothers, Charles, Frank and William Hunter, all of Sneads; paternal grandmother, Mrs.

Nannie Hunter of Sneads; and parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Gurr of Belle Glade.

Shrimp, Lettuce Soup—(Mf-Beat and Delicious!

Did you ever see lettuce cooking? It's done. Lettuce is a leafy green vegetable as any other and has a wonderfully fresh "green leafy" flavor when cooked. The blenderized pulp is, in fact, beautiful to see and taste. In this creamy, dreamy soup, the "pink" of shrimp blends with lettuce green with results nothing short of aesthetic. Select a salad-worthy head and for speed and ease, a can of your favorite shrimp.

CREAMY SHRIMP AND LETTUCE SOUP

1 can (4 1/2 ounces) shrimp
1 head (about 1 1/2 pounds) iceberg lettuce
1 medium onion, sliced
1 tablespoon butter

2 chicken bouillon cubes
1/4 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper

Chill shrimp in the can. Trim lettuce; remove the core and cut in quarters. Place in a soup kettle with onion and 2 cups water. Cover and cook rapidly 5 minutes or until lettuce is wilted. Drain, reserving cooking water. To the water add butter and bouillon cubes. Stir aside. Puree lettuce and onion in a blender; add the reserved lettuce water, cream, seasonings, shrimp and shrimp liquid from the can. Heat but do not boil. 5 servings.

Fire causes belt damages

A fire at Glades Sugar House that was originally thought to have caused extensive damages had already been repaired Sunday according to General Manager William Miller. Miller said approximately $3,000 to $4,000 damages were done to an overhead conveyor belt being installed. The belt is being installed to move bagasse from the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, Inc. owned mill to the Quaker Oats furfural plant next door. Miller said the fire was sparked by a spotwelder working on the assembly and he said the only cost to the mill came in the replacement of a part of the belt which had been burned. The alarm was answered by the Belle Glade Fire Department, shown in action at left and at right.

PBJC-Glades bid awarded

Construction of phase one buildings of the Glades Campus of Palm Beach Junior College for a bid price of $1,582,500 has been awarded to a Belle Glade construction firm, Roe Steele.

The bid award, well within projected costs, came at the October meeting of the college trustees. (Wed., Oct. 20.)

The base bid of the successful contractor was $1,487,000, and alternates one, two, three, and five were added for the final figure.

There were ten bidders in all, with a spread of almost $500,000, and Roe Steele's bid was almost $200,000 below that of the second low, Wadsworth and Sabrice a West Palm Beach based firm.

Board members noted the large difference, and Dr. Harold C. Manor, PBJC president, reported a special check which had shown Roe Steele to be both willing and able to fulfill the contract.

He said the fact that Roe Steele was the only bidder from the Glades would account for some of the difference in the bid.

Included in phase one will be a two-story structure of two joined modified modules plus a mechanical building. The first floor will include two double classrooms, a single classroom, library, bookstore, student lounge, and other office and support areas.

On the second floor will be seven classrooms, two laboratories, and other support areas.

A prior contract of $218,900 for site preparation was awarded to Hardrive, Inc., in May, and work has progressed to the point where construction can begin.

Construction time is 300 calendar days. In a related matter, the board approved a contract with the city of Belle Glade for providing water and sewer service to the Glades Campus at an estimated cost of $35,500 for installation.

Trustee George Michael asked the board to study the feasibility of air conditioning the gymnasium and adding a weight room and paddle ball/hand ball courts at the earliest opportunity.

Dr. Manor said he saw no reason why these items could not be part of a re-survey of all college facilities by a state survey team expected in the near future.

The board voted to go on record as expressing an interest in including the items mentioned by Michael on the project priority list.

Michael also brought up a recent reduction in the amount of student activity fees for athletics brought about by retention of fees at centers other than PBJC Central.

After considerable discussion, which branched for a time into the question of whether non-agenda items could be brought up at board meetings, the matter was referred to board committees for study.

ADDIE RAWLS WATCHES SOLOMON AND JESSE HOLLINGSWORTH ...play catch at McDonald Park as part of their weekly Big Brother outing to provide friendship to Glades youths

Big Brothers are needed here

Addie Rawls is looking for a few tall men and women. "No man stands so tall as when he stoops to help a child," Miss Rawls is fond of quoting, and she said she needs a lot of tall men and women to stoop in help of Glades area children who see all too few adults on an everyday basis.

She needs Big Brothers and Big Sisters and that's why Addie Rawls is in the Belle Glades area at least once a week. Big Brother-Big Sister is a national organization of volunteers such as Jesse Hollingsworth working with boys like Solomon Harris who happens not to have a father living in his home.

The organization is held together by caseworkers like Addie Rawls, whose job it is to match up Big Brother with Little Brother. Hollingsworth said he is a professional social worker who got into the program, "because I've always like kids" but Miss Rawls said she isn't necessarily looking for professionals.

She said she's looking for men who like to fish, play softball or basketball or whatever but mainly she's looking for men who care to share their activities with a kid who needs a friend he can look up to but talk to on an equal basis.

"We don't need counselors," Miss Rawls said. "We can provide the counseling. We want One of the first indications of what she is talking about is a noticeable lack of "Mr. Hollingsworth" and "Solomon" in exchanges between the two. It's "Jesse and Solomon" and that's the way Miss Rawls said it should be. "Mister" is a title, she explains, that indicates a formal, possibly even a professional relationship. So Jesse picks up Solomon once or twice a week for three or four hours. Sometimes they play catch. Sometimes they play around one of the basketball courts in the city, or take in a movie or wash Jesse's car. Hollingsworth said he has been Solomon's Big Brother since August and they've settled into a comfortable relationship with each other. He said he has gotten to know Solomon's family also but the primary thing is his one-on-one relationship with Solomon. Miss Rawls said this relationship is what the Big Brother program is all about. The Little Brother might have a professional relationship with several men," she said, "but that's not the role we want the Big Brothers to play. "Quite often," she said, "a professional might not even be able to relate as a Big Brother because he may be too used to playing a structured role as a teacher or counselor or doctor."

Miss Rawls said she needs in the Glades area and indoor types; men with only one interest in common on the coast they come, in all shapes and sizes, ranging in age from their late teens to the sixties; outdoor types; men who want to help some youngster get a better handle on life.

In West Palm Beach, she said, there are more Big Sisters than needed, while potential Little Brothers remain unmatched because of a lack of adult men who want to volunteer, she said. Despite the fact the Big Brother concept is older than the Big Sister.

"I guess women just naturally want to get involved in something like this more than men," Miss Rawls said, "but out here, we need both men and women as volunteers and while I have a few men, no women have volunteered at all."

She said she has a list of names of both boys and girls in the Glades area she needs to match up with volunteers. She said about half of the youths are referred by Celester Holmes, a social worker in the area. Many, however, are referred by mothers who realize the need caused by a lack of a father in the house. And what kind of men are those volunteers Miss Rawls is looking for? She said that in the Glades area, she needs men who want to help some youngster get a better handle on life.

L'E' Will to speak to historical unit

Lawrence E. Will, The Cracker Historian and pioneer citizen of the Glades, will be the guest speaker and the honored guest at the first fall meeting of the Glades Historical Society at 8 p.m. Nov. 4 at the Belle Glade Municipal Library.

Dr. Cecil Conley, chairman of the Society's board of directors, will preside over the program part of the meeting which will precede the business session. Mrs. R. V. Allison, the president of the Society, said this initial meeting is a significant event and she urges the attendance of all members.

Absentee ballots now available

Absentee ballots are now available for Glades residents who won't be able to go to the polls for the general election Nov. 2, according to Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester.

The ballots may be obtained at the Glades Office Building, as well as other county office buildings such as the county courthouse at 810 Datura St. in West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Winchester also said absentee ballots were to have been mailed to every registered voter in the county before the general election. Volunteers from the League of Women Voters are assisting the Supervisor of Elections Office in this project.

The mailing of the sample ballots began Oct. 20 and were expected to be completed Tuesday. The sample ballots were to have been mailed one per household of registered voters and each voter was to have received the ballot which will be used at his precinct.

Testing of the Computer Elections Systems tabulating equipment will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the Supervisor of Elections Office located at 810 Datura St. in West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Winchester is predicting a 76 per cent turnout for the General Election.

Tower to be built in John Stretch Park

LAKE HARBOR - A new landmark near the western edge of the county was authorized last week when the Palm Beach County Commission approved the construction of a 250 foot communications tower in John Stretch Memorial Park here.

Commissioner E. W. "Bud" Weaver said the request for the tower came from the Border Patrol. Weaver said Justice Department officials had asked for the tower to be used as part of a state-wide communications net.

"The Border Patrol has a net of nine towers," Weaver said, "but they had a blank spot in the net. This will take care of the blank spot."

He said the tower will support the antennae of a repeater station which will operate automatically.

Weaver said there will be a small shelter and an emergency generator which will turn on automatically and supply power in case of a power outage. Normally, the station will be supplied energy from nearby Florida Power and light lines.

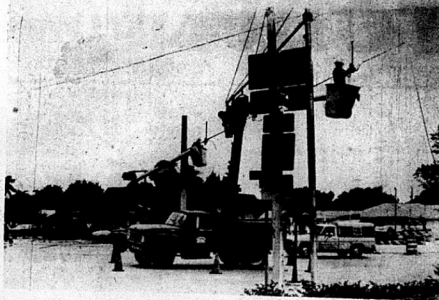

The tower will be located about 500 yards west of the second small lake in the park, where U. S. 27 and Herbert Hoover Dike converge.

Center fetes self

On Oct. 29, 1973, the Palm Beach Rehabilitation Center opened its doors to handicapped individuals in the community. The Glades Branch is located in the Osceola Housing Project in Belle Glade.

The Center provides the following services: identifying of handicapped adults 16 years of age and older, evaluation of their disability and needs, vocational counseling, training for employment, employment for those unable to work in the community because of their disability, job placement and follow-up. Training programs are in Food Service, Building Maintenance, Lawn Maintenance, and Industrial Sewing Machine Operation. Anyone interested in learning more about the Center and its services is invited to visit. The Center is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Signal corps

Electrical workers were busy last week updating the signalization at the intersection of South Main and South Avenue E in the path of furling construction being done on SR80. The new traffic signals are designed to meet new standards set by the state.

Washington Events Affecting Our Community

HIGHWAY TRAVEL: A recent Gallup poll conducted for the Washington-based Highway Users Federation showed that 82% of the public favors completion of the Interstate Highway System; 46% of those said, "as soon as possible."

NATURAL GAS SHORTAGE: Concern continues in Washington as agriculture and industry find it increasingly hard to get adequate natural gas supplies. William T. Kuhfus, head of the American Farm Bureau Federation, urged the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee to pass legislation decontrolling natural gas prices "in order to spur exploration for new domestic sources."

Decontrol, says the Federal Power Commission, would be the "single most effective measure" for easing the shortage.

The Washington Post editorialized in favor of price decontrol, calling it "the way to deal with the (natural) gas shortage."

QUOTES: Sen. Russell Long (D-La.) says that most of the "move-makers" have the idiotic idea that the way to get more energy is to tax the oil companies out of existence."

Adde John E. Swearingen, Standard Oil Company (Indiana) board chairman: "There is no way our company can absorb any significant new taxes without cutting back on funds devoted to our basic business of finding, developing, and processing energy resources."

The Rev. Elkin Sarnack, pastor of the Ebenezer Baptist Church in Nassau in the Bahamas, along with the men of the church, invited the Rev. Charles Robinson, pastor of the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church in Belle Glade, to bring the morning message for their "Men's Day."

On The Consumer's Side

Question: Can you give me any guidelines on selecting a nursing home for my father?

Answer: The Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) advises that as soon as it seems a nursing home might be needed, begin shopping. That way you have a good chance of finding the home that will meet medical needs and provide a comfortable atmosphere.

Before you begin looking for a home, talk with the patient about the surroundings that would be most comfortable and enjoyable. And talk with the patient's physician for a medical viewpoint too.

Most people over 65 are eligible for Medicare under certain conditions it will cover nursing home care for a limited time. People with low incomes may qualify for Medicaid. These two Federal programs pay bills for a majority of nursing home residents. Your District Social Security Office has information on Medicare requirements. Your local welfare department determines eligibility for Medicaid.

Check with friends, relatives and local social service agencies for names of nursing homes in your area. Then call the homes to find out if they actually provide the kind of care needed. Also find out which homes qualify for Medicare or Medicaid if you're depending on help from either of these programs.

Next, you should arrange to visit the homes that would be suitable. If possible, go during late morning or at midday to see a meal being served. Also, observe the attitudes of staff and patients, and the general appearance of the home. During your talk with the home's administrators, find out if the specific needs such as physical therapy or special diet can be met. Be sure to find out if the home and administrators have current licenses from the State. Also be certain that the home has been inspected recently and meets Federal or State codes for fire safety. Unless all these conditions are met, HEW advises that you not use the home. For more information on selecting a nursing home, send for a copy of the booklet, Guide To Choosing A Nursing Home. Why you should vote for J. Reeve Bright as State Representative Dist. 82

LOOK ON THE BRIGHT SIDE

Compare these facts and decide who you want to represent you in Tallahassee:

EDUCATION

Reeve Bright: Favors educational testing programs which would assure that high school students can read and write before receiving a diploma. Teachers must be free to teach without bureaucratic interference.

John Conkline: Voted against the "Educational Accountability Act of 1976" which would test students to make sure they have mastered the basic skills before graduation. (CS-SB 107 - June 2, 1976 pg. 1120)

CRIME

Reeve Bright: Seeks stronger law enforcement legislation to effectively fight crime.

John Conkline: Voted against a bill to get tough with shoplifters. (HB 900 - May 14, 1976 pg. 530)

TAXES

Reeve Bright: Supports the effort to keep the lid on taxes. State taxes already take enough money from your pocketbook.

John Conkline: Voted for a new tax bill during debate in the 1976 session. (Motion on HB 3111 - June 3, 1976 pg. 1120)

UNEMPLOYMENT

Reeve Bright: Supports efforts to make Florida attractive to "clean," light industry. Supports Florida's job providers and seeks less state government interference.

John Conkline: Voted against 86% of the bills supported by the Associated Industries of Florida. Voted against most of the key bills supported by the Florida Chamber of Commerce. Received a zero percent rating by the Florida Conservative Union on a wide range of bills.

A PERSONAL MESSAGE FROM REEVE BRIGHT

I ask for your support... not on the basis of party affiliation or personal appeal... but on the above facts. Please compare my position and that of my opponent on these important issues. Then decide for yourself who can serve you best as your state legislator in Tallahassee.

Goldcoast Gardener

By Joyce Joyner
Urban Horticulturist
Palm Beach County

Continuing with our series of articles on specific plants, this week we will be studying the gardenia. Gardenias are one of the most popular specimen shrubs that we have in Florida and are highly prized for the attractive, dark green, glossy foliage and the fragrance of the beautiful white flowers.

There are many varieties of gardenia available from local nurseries and the principal differences among these are the size of flowers, the length of the blooming season and the growth rate of the individual plant.

Within the last two years there has been a new variety of gardenia introduced to the nursery industry that has a large white bloom for a few days and then the flower changes to a deep golden yellow. This gardenia, called 'Golden Magic' is available at some local nurseries.

When you purchase a gardenia make sure that you place it in the proper location in your landscape. Gardenias like full sun for optimum growth and flowering. They should not be placed too near the house because the soil next to the house is usually quite alkaline and this will cause problems with the plant's growth. Gardenias prefer an acid soil and to help maintain the acidity of the soil at the time of planting you should incorporate such things as peat moss, manure or other organic materials and use a generous amount of acid top soil.

Gardenias require frequent fertilization to maintain them in excellent condition. There are available at garden supply stores fertilizers made specifically for gardenias and other acid loving plants, or you can use a complete fertilizer such as a 6-6-6 containing all the trace elements and in particular iron and manganese.

The frequency of fertilization will be determined by your soil type and watering practices. In most situations plants should be given a light feeding every eight to ten weeks up through the end of October. After October no additional fertilizing should be done until late February. Fertilizing during the winter months will encourage flushes of tender new growth that might be injured by cold winds.

Gardenias should be watered thoroughly at least once a week unless the soil is very sandy and would require it more often than that.

Pruning can be done on gardenias at any time but it is preferred to prune these after the blooming season which is late spring and early summer. No severe pruning should be done after October.

There are several insect problems that affect gardenias and aphids, scale, whiteflies and mealybugs present the most serious problems. These insects many times will start a condition which will leave a black coating over the leaves. This black coating, called sooty mold, is a mold that grows in the secretions of these insects.

Control of these insects will usually stop the increase in sooty mold growth. Most general purpose insecticides such as Malathion or

NEWS OF FOOD

Natural And Nutritious
Now that nutritionists are increasingly concerned about the need for more fiber in the American diet, one food that is being recommended in a big way is beans.

That's because a cup of cooked dry beans can provide about one-third of the five to six grams of fiber needed in the diet every day to keep the digestive system in order.

There are several reasons why beans are so beneficial. First, they are a good source of protein and fiber. Second, they are low in fat and calories. Third, they are a good source of iron and calcium.

Beans are also a good source of B vitamins and potassium. They are a versatile food that can be used in many different ways.

Pruning can be done on gardenias at any time but it

Heart Fund activities begins for year

The Palm Beach County chapter of the American Heart Association today kicked off its Heart Fund activities for the coming year and announced that Gary E. Jones will serve as 1977 Heart Fund campaign chairman.

Jones is president of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Riviera Beach and has been a Heart volunteer for four years.

serving as treasurer, first and second vice-president and president-elect.

Under Jones' direction, nearly 5,000 volunteers will solicit homes, businesses and industry in February, American Heart Month, and conduct special events. To facilitate his work, he has arranged for a "hot line" from his office to the Heart Association.

"We plan to raise a lot of money this year," Jones commented. "Our campaign, which raised $526,000 last year, has always been successful, and since the business outlook in Florida has improved, we hope contributions will improve accordingly."

The American Heart Association's campaign slogan is "We're Fighting for Your Life," and volunteers across the nation are taking it very seriously," he continued. "Every minute, two people die from some form of heart or blood vessel disease. In fact, more than one half of all the deaths in our country are still attributable to cardiovascular disease."

Jones' other volunteer work includes serving as president of both the Palm Beach County Bankers Association and Northern Palm Beach County Chamber of Commerce. He is a trustee of the Palm Beach Junior College Foundation, a director of the Urban League of Palm Beach County and a member of the board of directors and fund raising advisory committee of the American Heart Association/Florida Affiliate. He and his wife, Virginia, reside in Hialeah and have three children.

Q. I just received my tax bill and the maintenance tax has doubled. Why?

A. The maintenance tax is a drainage district tax. There are 34 drainage districts in Palm Beach County. Each district sets a rate to be charged the property owner for drainage of the land. 33 districts charge a rate based on acreage with any proerty less than one acre being considered the same as one acre. There is one other district which charges by lot. If you have two lots you would be charged the full rate on each lot. Some drainage districts charge a debt tax to pay off bond issues.

The property appraiser is required by State Law to post this charge for maintenance of the roll and the tax collector is required to collect it. The maintenance tax is in no way connected to the appraised value of the land.

To make highways as safe as nuclear plants, you'd have to eliminate cars.

The danger of getting behind the wheel of an automobile is seldom given a second thought. However, consider this: On a yearly basis, your chance of having a traffic fatality is 1 in 4000. 1 in 4000 is pretty good odds. But not nearly as good as that achieved by nuclear power plants.

To date, nuclear power plants have a zero fatality ratio. The odds: 1 in 5 billion. Because they're constructed as safe as is humanly and mechanically possible.

Commercial nuclear power plants have been operating for more than 320 reactor years without a single accident—let alone fatality. No new technology has ever been developed with as much concentration and expenditures on safety.

How safe are nuclear power plants when compared with non-nuclear risks? Dr. Norman Rasmussen, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, conducted a study for the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission. His findings are rather dramatic. (See chart.)

We realize, of course, that there's an element of risk to everything an individual does, from driving a car to taking a bath. However, any potential risks involved in the use of nuclear power for electric generation have been minimized by adopting and maintaining the highest standards of safety in design, engineering and construction. Such as requiring redundant protective equipment and systems.

The nuclear power industry has been built with the greatest concern for public safety, and this will continue to be a prime objective. No other industry can match nuclear power's safety record. A record we intend to keep.

AVERAGE RISK OF FATALITY BY VARIOUS CAUSES
Accident Type	Number of Deaths	Individual Chance
Motor Vehicle	55,791	1 in 4,000
Falls	17,827	1 in 10,000
Fires and Hot Substances	7,451	1 in 25,000
Drowning	6,181	1 in 30,000
Firearms	2,309	1 in 100,000
Air Travel	1,778	1 in 100,000
Falling Objects	1,271	1 in 160,000
Electrocution	1,148	1 in 160,000
Lightning	150	1 in 2,000,000
Tornadoes	91	1 in 2,500,000
Earthquakes	83	1 in 2,500,000

Funeral services held for Wood

Funeral services were held for Fred D. Wood, 75, of 1608 S. E. Ave. G at the Foreverglades Mausoleum Friday with the Rev. Mark O'Farrell officiating. Wood moved to Belle Glade three years ago from Madison Heights, Va., where he had worked for the Norfolk and Western Railroad as a conductor. Survivors include his widow, Aubrey Virginia Wood of Belle Glade; a daughter, Mrs. Betty Tyler of Belle Glade; a son, Kenneth Payton Wood of Madison Heights, Va.; a brother, Houston A. Goff of Madison Heights, Va.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Johnson of Lynchburg, Va., Mrs. Fred Bruggeman of Lynchburg, Va. and Mrs. Sam Tankard of Virginia Beach, Va.; four grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Mixson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Funeral services held for Starratt

Funeral services were held Saturday, Oct. 16 at Mixson Funeral Home for Robert S. Starratt, 57, of Ocala.

Starratt died Oct. 12. Cremation followed the services. Mixson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Local Airman

SAN ANTONIO — Airman William R. Hamilton Jr., son of Mrs. Jewell D. Hamilton of Belle Glade has graduated at Lackland AFB, Tex., from Air Force basic training. The airman, who studied in Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations, is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field. Airman Hamilton is a 1975 graduate of Decatur Central High School, Indianapolis. His wife, Magdalene, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Armstrong of 4239 Matthews Ave., Indianapolis.

My rural background has always kept me close to people. My early years on a small dairy farm near Live Oak in Suwannee County, and later as National President of the Future Farmers of America, taught me that listening to people is the best preparation to later meet their needs through public service.

Sunday, Nov. 5. Musical services will be led by the Rev. Ramon Carden, minister of music and youth at Elkdale Baptist Church in Selma, Ala. The services will begin at 7:30 p.m. nightly and a nursery will be provided according to First Baptist pastor Robert Atkins. Rev. Baggett is a native Alabamian who has served a professor of religion at Samford University in Birmingham for more than eight years. He has also been pastor of the First Baptist Church in Florence, Ala.

"Dr. Baggett travels thousands of miles a year due to the fact that he is much in demand, not only as a preacher, but also as a speaker for clubs and banquets," Rev. Atkins said. "His keen mind and quick sense of humor," Atkins said, "cause him to receive a wide scope of invitations to speak. In a day when we hear that conversation is rapidly becoming a lost art, Dr. Baggett is a master conversationalist." Rev. Carden, Rev. Atkins said, is a graduate of Georgia Tech and worked for several years as a mechanical engineer. He later graduated from New Orleans Baptist Theological Seminary and has served churches in Louisiana and Alabama.

Belle Glade Ministerial Ass'n to meet

The Belle Glade Area Ministerial Association will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 2 at the Glades General Hospital. "All area ministers are invited to attend and give support to the association so it will be able to benefit the community of Belle Glade," said Maurice E. De Vaux, President.

Singers to appear

Internationally known Gospel Singers Don and Earl from Knoxville, Tenn., will be featured guests for one service at the Chosen Missionary Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 29. Don and Earl are heard nationally and in 20 foreign countries daily. Pastor James Duncan said more information may be obtained by calling 996-3148.

My New Day

This sunrise is created by Thee, O Lord,
With the sky all rose and gold,
Hails a bright new day never lived before,
A day only one hour old;
With its golden hours untarnished,
Tis a treasure-trove for me;
A day to live and love and serve,
A gift to return to Thee.

Q. I plan to drive my new sailboat to the lake the next vacation I get. Actually I'm going to hitch it to a boat trailer and pull it there. Will the car insurance I have right now still cover me?

A. You'll have the same protection you have now as far as liability to another driver or may be concerned, but if your boat or trailer gets damaged the cost may be yours unless you get a special addition to your policy.
